

Print/web designer summer internship

Wickware Communications is looking for a print/web design student to join us as an intern this summer. We are a full-service marketing agency that specializes in helping financial services firms earn a better Return on Creative™. Learn more at wickware.com.

Responsibilities

- > Primarily supporting our Art Director and Digital Director on print and web design projects
- > Secondly supporting our Project Manager, Managing Director and Creative Director
- > Sourcing imagery for print and web-related material
- > Participating in team brainstorm sessions

Required skills

- > Proficient in Adobe Creative Suite
- > Knowledge of HTML and Dreamweaver
- > Comfortable working with financial services clients
- > Willing to pitch in where needed—including non-design tasks
- > Not afraid to ask questions
- > Responsible and hard-working
- > Friendly, enthusiastic, and good with people

Terms

Three-month internship starting June 1st. This is not a paid position, but it does include a Metropass and several free lunches (despite what they taught you in school).

To apply, please send a resume, cover letter and PDF or online portfolio of work to info@wickware.com by May 14, 2010.
